The past couple of weeks have brought a bunch of cool stuff. I'm pretty excited about the new Kelly Willis, Mark O'Connor and the reissues from Joe Ely, Gary Stewart and the Columbia Country Classics set. I'm batting 2-4 in the past month as far as getting country stuff added to KCPR's regular rotation. Eric, the MD, added Mark O'Connor and one of the Joe Ely set and passed on the Marty Stewart and Kelly Willis. The biggest surprise yet this year was seeing the Okra record's High Sheriff Ricky Barnes "Bone Country" album not only get added but end up in medium rotation and charting in the mid thirties. It gave me hope that the Euro-Dance-Feedback-Manchester crowd can fit a cool Yoakam song in between Daniel Ash and Morrissey.

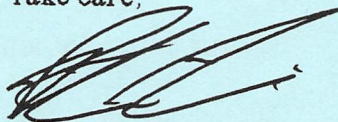

KCPR recently wrapped up our yearly fundraising week. The Burnt Dog Rodeo did very well as far as getting pledges, finishing second to the blues guys in money raised. Another encouraging sign for traditional country music on this station. Thanks to everyone who helped us out with giveaways for this week.

KCPR has added a Spanish/Latin/Chicano music show. Jorge Zavala got his start on the Burnt Dog Rodeo and is working on building up the stations library. Please contact him if you have any titles that would fit on his show.

That's about it from here. Keep sending new releases and keep me posted on what you're up to. I am usually available at the station Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 10 to noon. If the 756-2965 line is busy or has the machine on call (805) 544-4640 and ask the DJ if I am around.

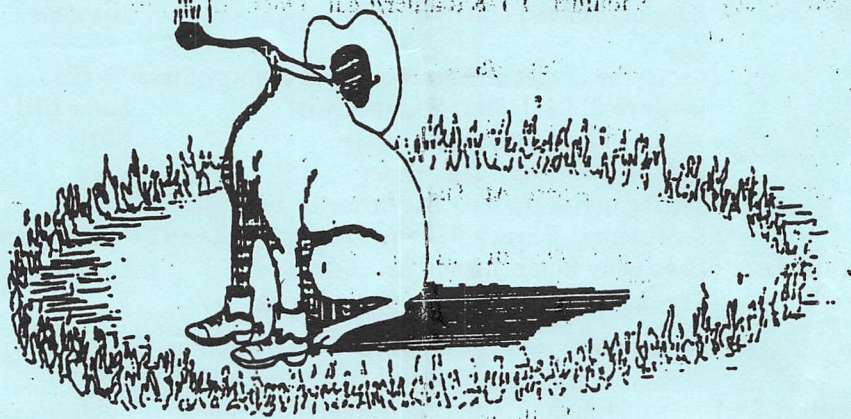

Take Care,

Peter Ranchieri
Country Guy.
